THE BEER BUSINESS.

It Censures to Be Profitable in St. Johnsbury—Vigorous Prosecutions by State's Attorney Slack.

For a number of months the beer business has been the source of a great deal of annoyance to the officers of the law in St. Johnsbury. The article sold in most of the barber shops, pool rooms and small cigar stores was claimed to be non-intoxicating, but the effects upon those who drank it indicated that such was not the fact.

About four months ago the establishment in the basement of the Avenue House run by George Lemere was searched by the officers, under the direction of State's Attorney Slack, and quite a quantity of the beer in question seized. Samples were analyzed by Prof. S. H. Brackett and found by him to contain from 6 to over 8 per cent alcohol. A justice jury trial of the case was held at which the respondent testified that his goods were all purchased of George B. Clement and E. M. Harris, who were doing a bottling business and furnished all the local dealers in "soft drinks." Both Clement and Harris swore that they put up only a non-intoxicating hop-beer.

Notwithstanding the analysis and other strong evidence against Lemere, the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal.

Mr. Slack and Sheriff Salloway later made a collection of fourteen samples of beer obtained from the various dealers and these were sent for analysis to the state chemist, Dr. J. A. Lindsey of Burlington. The result satisfied the state's attorney that the beer came within the prohibition of the statute.

Mr. Slack also procured an order from Judge Start authorizing and directing Sheriff Salloway to obtain from the office of the internal revenue collector at Portsmouth, N. H., a list of the holders of United States liquor licenses. He soon was possessed of a satisfactory amount of evidence against the beer dealers, and last week filed complaints against the bottlers, George B. Clement and E. M. Harris, for keeping intoxicating liquor with intent to sell, also for keeping a nuisance. The respondents pleaded guilty in each case and paid fines and costs amounting to $84.02 each. Upon complaints being filed against Hiram Goss, he pleaded guilty of keeping a nuisance and of eight first offenses of selling intoxicating liquor and paid fines and costs amounting to $199.02. Complaints were filed against the following for keeping a nuisance, each pleaded guilty and paid fine and costs amounting to $29.51 in every case: Bourque & Dumas, Joseph Henault, William P. Brown, John Bernier, Ernest Massey, F. A. Derby, Frank Benoit, Dominick Costa, O. S. Cogswell, Edward Buckley and Robert Cobb pleaded guilty of keeping intoxicating with intent to sell and were fined accordingly.

Hon. Albro F. Nichols acted as court in these cases. The state's attorney has filed bills in chancery against the keepers and owners of the buildings where the business has been carried on, alleging the keeping of common nuisance and asking the court to abate and enjoin the same.

The keepers against whom the chancery proceedings are directed are Messrs. Harris, Clement, Goss, Bourque & Dumas, Henault, Bernier, Brown, Massey, Derby, Benoit, Costa, Allison & Davie. The property owners are A. L. Bailey, Citizens Savings Bank and Trust Co., Merchants National Bank, John T. Ritchie, M. J. Caldwell, Henry Cormier, Thomas Gagner, Mrs. Carrie L. Daniels, William A. Burke, Mrs. G. C. Burnham, B. G. Howe and First National Bank.

Great credit is due to State's Attorney Leighton P. Slack for thus clearing out the "dives" that have been the cause of so much trouble in this village, and the measure of justice meted out to the transgressors of the law is such as may well be a wholesome lesson to all inclined to carry on a compromising business.

Election of Officers.

The Knights of Columbus recently elected the following officers: Grand knight, William F. Welch. Deputy grand knight, Raymond J. Trainor. Chai cellor, Charles O'Keefe. Recording secretary, William D. Brown. Financial secretary, W. P. Riley. Treasurer, Thomas J. Tierney. Lecturer, James Maloney. Advocate, D. P. Convery. Warden, Michael Cassidy. Inside guard, John Coleman. Outside guard, Henry Daniels. Council physician, R. E. McSweeney. Chaplain, Rev. J. A. Lynch. Board of trustees, John Ryan, D. F. Lynch, P. A. Roach.

Summer Schools.

The summer schools for teachers are to be held this year at Rutland, Bradford, Essex Junction, Chester, Barton and Hardwick. The latter place has been chosen, instead of St. Johnsbury, to accommodate Lamoille and Washington counties. The schools open July 24. Mrs. Beck and Supt. Jones of St. Johnsbury are on the list of instructors at Hardwick. Mr. Jones has a series of lectures on nature study, a subject in which he is especially well grounded, and Mrs. Beck, who is recognized as the leading primary teacher in Vermont, speaks upon primary subjects.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Fittingly Observed by the Academy, the Public and Parochial Schools and by Chamberlin Post, G. A. R.

An exceedingly interesting patriotic Memorial Service was held in Academy Hall, Monday at 9 a. m. The programme was unusually varied and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present. The speakers were Rev. G. W. Hunt, Captain P. D. Blodgett, and G. R. Crosby. From Rev. Mr. Hunt the students received most stirring and helpful thoughts, full of patriotic sentiment. He made clear and forcible the responsibility that is laid upon the youth of the present generation by the achievements and sacrifices of those who have fought the battles of the past. In Mr. Crosby's recital of his experiences while a prisoner in Andersonville a graphic picture was presented—a chapter of the Civil War which most deeply impressed his hearers. In simple, conversational style he told of suffering and death, of hope long deterred, of release, of the pathetic joy with which the "boys," broken in health but not in patriotism, again caught sight of the old flag. Captain Blodgett related a touching incident in his experience, at the terrible "slaughter pen," where occurred one of the most frightful scenes of havoc recorded in the whole war. The description of the fourteen-year old North Carolina lad, compelled to serve under the Confederate flag, wounded unto death, saying with almost his dying breath, "The saddest part of it is that I am to die fighting against the old flag,"—all this was told in a most interesting way.

Miss Ethel Abbott sang most acceptably the Battle Hymn of the Republic, the choruses being sung by the audience. J. W. Batchelder rendered on the cornet a very pleasing melody of patriotic airs, Miss Alice Warden playing the piano accompaniment.

At the Public Schools. Through the thoughtfulness of Chamberlin Post, G. A. R., veterans were assigned to many of the schools on Monday afternoon and interesting exercises were held. The first and second grades of the summer street schools marched in a body to the cemetery and decorated the soldiers' monument. Capt. P. D. Blodgett addressed the third and fourth grades, Marshall Montgomery the fifth and seventh and Arthur F. Stone and Lieut. Gov. Bates the eighth and ninth. In the first and second grades in Summerville there were appropriate exercises. Interesting programmes were also given in the two upper rooms where Capt. E. L. Hovey spoke in Miss Rockwell's room and Capt. Edward F. Griswold in Mrs. Peck's room.

Rev. H. L. Veazey spoke in the Parables Village School, W. H. Ward at Four Corners, C. H. Woodbury at Goss Hollow, Elisha May was assigned to Paddock Village and C. H. West to Maple street. The day was also appropriately observed at St. Johnsbury Center and East St. Johnsbury.

At the Parochial School. The usual Memorial Day exercises were held in the convent and parochial school Monday afternoon. A new feature of the exercises was the tribute paid to the heroes of the late war. An interesting programme was rendered at the convent, including declamations, a fancy drill, the pledge of allegiance to the flag and patriotic songs.

Chamberlin Post's Part in the Day. A heavy shower early yesterday morning cleared the air for a fine holiday and many enjoyed the day. In the morning a detail from Chamberlin Post decorated the soldiers' graves at the cemetery and at noon the comrades gathered at Grand Army Hall for their annual dinner.

At 1.30 the St. Johnsbury Band gave a concert in Court House square, after which they escorted the members of Chamberlin Post to Soldiers' Monument, where the regular Grand Army service was held. The soldiers then marched to Music Hall which was well filled for the occasion of the day. P. F. Hazen was president of the day and after calling the meeting to order the band gave a patriotic medley. Prayer was then offered by Rev. G. W. Hunt, pastor of Grace Methodist church.

After a few remarks by P. F. Hazen, to any who are not already filled with patriotism, he read President Lincoln's address at Gettysburg, and then followed a stirring and practical address of the day by Rev. Harry Lawrence Veazey. He spoke of the many changes in the world's geography, of the many pages of history added since last Memorial Day and of the large number of people who have since then been blessed with American civilization. The practical and progressive American patriotism rejoices in the friendly feeling that exists between the North and South and the blessings of a free government. While Mr. Veazey is not a partisan of the present administration he does believe that the authority and wisdom of the President should be recognized in the present great questions. He says the anti-imperialists are only afraid of their own vain imaginations, and to the questions now raised as to whether we want the Philippines or not and what shall we do with them we can simply say we have them and have paid $20,000,000 for them. To the question can we afford to become a world power we answer we ought to expand American ideas and let the blessings of an American people come to the Filipinos. We cannot afford to do less than our duty, and we shall give the Filipinos a voice in our government when they are fitted for it.

Anti-Saloon League.

Much interest is shown in this organization and the enrollment is rapidly increasing. Last week a circular stating the aim and constitution of the League was issued, and so far as correct addresses could be obtained a copy was mailed to every voter of the town. Some errors and omissions were unavoidable, owing to changes in the check list. The attempt was made to acquaint everyone with the purposes of the League and to invite all to membership.

The circular letter, which we herewith reprint in full, shows the basis of organization to be broad and simple, so that everyone who desires good order and law enforcement is invited to membership, whether man or woman, voter or not, total abstainer or not. Those who were enrolled and paid dues prior to the issuing of the circular are credited with the same on the secretary's book.

We believe that every seat in Music Hall will be filled next Sunday evening on the occasion of the address of Judge Thompson of the supreme court.

Following is the circular letter to the voters of the town:

We wish to present to you, for most serious consideration, a matter which has already been presented in an emphatic way to the people of St. Johnsbury, and in which we now most earnestly desire your interest, sympathy, and cooperation.

Every citizen, whether he be a voter or not, should feel a great degree of pride in his town, and anything that tends to injure in any way its welfare and reputation, or the welfare of any of its citizens, young or old, should meet with his immediate and vigorous opposition.

It is, doubtless, known to you that earnest effort is being made to assist the legal authorities in suppressing the traffic in intoxicating liquors in our town. To this end an organization, known as the St. Johnsbury Anti-Saloon League, has been formed, auxiliary to the State League.

On the evening of April 23d, in Music Hall, Rev. George W. Morrow, Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League for the State of Vermont, addressed a large gathering of the citizens of St. Johnsbury on this subject. There were present representatives of all religious denominations, and a great interest in the movement was manifested.

This is no question of creed or politics, but of clean morals, orderly streets, and good reputation.

We believe you will be interested in this. You are not asked to sign a pledge, but to protect our village against this growing curse. If you have children, you wish to protect them, at all events. We give below the constitution of the League.

CONSTITUTION.

1. Name. This organization shall be called the St. Johnsbury Anti-Saloon League, being in affiliation with the State Anti-Saloon League.

2. Object. To promote the interests of temperance and good order in our town, respect for law, and suppression of traffic in intoxicants.

3. Members. All persons willing to cooperate shall become members upon enrollment of their names and payment of the annual dues (25c.)

4. Officers. President, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and a committee of five. These nine shall constitute the executive board, which shall have power to enlarge its number and to fill vacancies therein.

We need your aid. Will you not join in this movement? Read what is printed on the card which we send you. If more than one in your household may be willing to cooperate with us, send their names and 25c. for each one. This money is needed for promoting the cause, and will be so used.

Very truly yours, Executive Board, E. T. Fairbanks, president; W. P. Stafford, vice president; A. H. Barbour, secretary; E. A. Sikby treasurer; D. V. Comstock, J. A. Boissonault, A. W. Roberts, G. C. Waterman, Robert MacKinnon, J. A. Lynch, L. N. Smythe. On Sunday evening, June 4th, at Music Hall, Hon. L. H. Thompson, one of the judges of the supreme court of the state of Vermont, will address a general meeting of citizens upon this topic. Do not fail to hear him.

The "March King."

"Sousa and his Band" gave a delightful entertainment in Music Hall last Wednesday evening. The selections by the band, as led by the "March King," received the heartiest praise and each number upon the programme by the band was encored. Sousa's own compositions were most enjoyed. These included the ever popular "Stars and Stripes Forever," "Hands across the Sea," (new) and "Tarentella," from "The Bride Elect."

The solo parts by Herbert L. Clark, cornetist, Miss Maud Reese Davies, soprano, and Miss Dorothy Hoyle, violinist, were all of a high order of merit, but the selections by Miss Hoyle were especially pleasing, demonstrating her rare talent as a violin artist.

The Memorial Sermon.

The union meeting of the churches was held in Music Hall Sunday evening to listen to the memorial sermon, delivered by Rev. A. C. Hussey of the Railroad street Baptist church.

Music was furnished by a double quartet consisting of Messrs. Stanley H. Perry, W. B. Atwood, T. N. Shufelt, Lewis H. Carpenter and Misses Ethel Abbott, Maude P. Daniels, Ellen M. Abbott, Lena M. Pike. Miss Ethel Abbott sang a solo, and the closing hymn in which the audience joined, "Onward Christian Soldiers," was led by W. B. Atwood. B. Frank Harris acted as pianist.

Scripture was read by Rev. Dr. Edward T. Fairbanks and prayer offered by Rev. William C. Merrill of Lynn, Mass., who has been supplying at the North church the past few Sundays.

Mr. Hussey's subject was "Americanism vs. Multi-Isms." His text was Isa. 60: 12—"For the nation and people who will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted"—and Psalms 144: 15—"Happy is that people whose God is the Lord."

The dangers that threaten our country he finds in the form of alienism, partyism, imperialism and alcoholism—alienism, or the immigration problem, partyism or the corruption in political life, imperialism or the greed and military ambition which seeks territorial expansion, alcoholism—the greatest evil of all, which threatens the foundations of all that is best in our country.

The defence against these Multi-Isms is Americanism, the true spirit of American civilization. The hope of our country is in the spirit of the American constitution and the world's Christ abiding in our citizens, soldiers and leaders.

We can best honor the dead and serve the living by promoting the true Christian American civilization.

Mr. Hussey repeated the poem "Sail on, O ship of State," and closed his sermon with a religious appeal to the old soldiers.

The sermon was a vigorous, interesting address, and excepting a few remarks from the so-called anti-imperialist standpoint and reflecting on the policy of the administration in regard to the Philippines, it was enjoyed and well received. The words of counsel against President McKinley's policy and questioning the honesty of purpose in prosecuting the war against the Filipinos did not meet with popular approval, especially among the members of Chamberlin Post, G. A. R., who were present in a body.

The service closed with prayer and benediction by Rev. Mr. Streeter of the Congregational church, St. Johnsbury Center.

Death of Julia M. Bundy.

Great sympathy goes out at this time to Mrs. and Mrs. Fred G. Bundy, who are deeply afflicted in the death of their eldest daughter, Julia M. Bundy. She died Saturday night after a week's illness of pneumonia. She was a girl of rare promise and a great favorite among her schoolmates. She was in her 13th year and a member of Mrs. Lucius K. Hazen's school. At the funeral yesterday afternoon there was an unusually large attendance, the eighth grade of the public schools attending in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. M. H. Mill and very tender and appreciative remarks were made by Rev. Dr. Edward T. Fairbanks. Music was furnished by a quartette consisting of Mrs. D. D. Patterson, Mrs. P. F. Hazen, Prof. C. W. Pickells, T. N. Shufelt. There was a profusion of flowers and many hearts are saddened by the death of this bright and attractive girl. The parents sustain a double affliction, having lost their little daughter Marion a little over a year ago.

Church Notes.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the North church will be held with Mrs. George H. Cross Thursday evening. A 6 o'clock supper will be served after which the election of officers will be held.

The social of the First Baptist church held at Jesse Gage's last Friday evening was a most enjoyable occasion. After a number of interesting entertainments a bountiful collation of cake and ice cream was served and all went away hoping that the time to meet again with Mr. and Mrs. Gage will not be far in the future.

The Industrial Circle of this church will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Carrie B. Ingalls on Eastern avenue. This meeting is for work only.

The subject of discourse next Sunday morning will be "Christ on the Cross."

The children of Notre Dame will make their First Communion, Thursday morning, June 1st, at half-past seven. On the same day His Lordship Bishop Michaud will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation. There are over eighty candidates in the preparatory class.

Friday afternoon the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the South church meets and will fill a box to be sent to the Kurn Hattin Homes. It is desired that all contributions of clothing, etc., for this box be on hand at the church by 2 o'clock.

At the Church of the Messiah next Sunday morning the pastor will speak upon "Standards: Human and Divine."

The Y. P. C. U. of the Church of the Messiah will hold its monthly business meeting on Friday evening with Rev. H. L. Veazey at 28 Central street.

Business Notes.

J. Allen Dexter has sold his business to G. H. Buzzell and accepted a position as traveling salesman for the H. W. Johns Roofing Co. of New York. Mr. Dexter will travel through the south and middle west and starts on his first trip next Saturday night.

The Morrisville News and Citizen has the following about one of our hustling merchants: "George C. Carey, a traveling salesman, who has cornered a good deal of trade here, has been in the maple sugar business extensively this week, having collected about a car-load, to be shipped to the New York City market."

The Passumpsic Savings Bank has come into our advertising columns and to those who are looking for a safe investment that pays four per cent dividend free of tax we can recommend this institution. It is one of the oldest as well as leading financial institutions in Vermont and its deposits aggregate nearly $2,000,000.
